[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Washington, November 1.—Confidenpril Envoy John Lind, giving details of recent developments in Mexico, were sald to have engaged the attention of the President and Secretary Bryan to-day. After a conference with the President, Mr. Bryan rushed away for a day's campaigning in Maryland. Not a word at this time," he cried to the newspaper men who were waltaxecutive offices. No statement was forthcoming from the White House, but it was learned that Mr. Bryan has tirked the President to withhold the tembers of the diplomatic corps shall the the general tenor of the policy their home governments.

May Precipitate Crisis

The explanation of the panicky feeling at the departments was that Huertz would precipitate the crisis which would demand the action referred to by the President.

Aside from that contingency, military and navnl officers settled themselves down to awaiting announcements by the President and those are ments by the President ever since Huerta de-above all, and the Mexicans would unite against an invader.

Moving Towards Piedras Negras. Eagle Pass, Tex., November 1.-A report was received here to-night that the rebels are moving toward Piedras Negras and an attack is anticipated late to-night or to-morrow. The re-port created considerable excitement in the Mexican town, and all of the Americans remaining there are preparing to cross the border.
